

CERTIFICATE of CONTINUED OCCUPANCY APPLICATION (CCO)

The CCO home inspection is a “general inspection of the visible parts of the building or structure” and is designed to accomplish and affirm three (3) things:

1. No work has been done that required a Construction Permit.
2. There are no outstanding permits or inspections associated with the property.
3. No visible violations or unsafe conditions are found to exist.

Should your inspection identify any one of these items, you will be required to secure and satisfy the necessary permits and inspections before a CCO will be issued.

It is very possible that you purchased your house with some of the features above and that the work was done without permits. You will nonetheless be required to secure and satisfy the necessary permits before the CCO will be issued. This assures that past mistakes are not repeated, and that your home is sold completely permitted and inspected as required.

After your home has passed inspection by all of our inspectors, the homeowner or agent may call the Construction Office the following day to obtain a certificate. Certificates cannot be issued in the field at the time of inspection.

Please be aware that any permits that are required and Certificates of Approval that are issued as a condition of a CCO are provided to the Tax Assessor.

Such permits may result in an added assessment for any improvements that were not previously included in the property evaluation and will impact the buyer accordingly.
